

Send a Wake Up Call to the Democratic Party!

--Democrats want good schools, not schools run by teachers' unions that prevent bad teachers from being fired.

--Democrats want government that works, at a price taxpayers can afford, not government that cuts services to pay for bloated pensions for its own workers.

--Democrats want decent wages even for the least skilled American workers, not a labor market flooded with illegal immigrants looking for the next amnesty.

The professional politicians who run the party aren't listening to what average Democrats want.

Mickey Kaus is running for U.S. Senate to wake them up make them listen.

Every vote for Mickey Kaus on June 8 sends a message: It's time for common sense in the Democratic party.

FYI: "Decline to state" voters can vote in the race simply by requesting a Democratic ballot at the polls.
